

GLENDALE'S POLICY

TROPICO'S BUDGET AND ITS AP- PORTIONMENT IS EXPLAINED

A very cordial welcome was extended by Mr. Watson, City Manager, to the visitor from Tropico who came to interview him on behalf of its citizens concerning the course which will be pursued relative to the territory to be annexed.

Policy

"The policy which the City of Glendale is pursuing in all of its departments at the present time, will be extended to the entire city," said he.

Budget

"The books will be audited to ascertain the funds available from the treasury of Tropico and its taxes for the current year. This will be added to the budget of the general city and its service in the departments of street maintenance, fire, health, police and forestry, will be extended to the Tropico district on the same plan as in the rest of the city."

Mr. Watson then explained how the budget of Glendale has been distributed among these various departments. Tropico must necessarily come in as a separate and supplementary budget at this time, but its funds will be apportioned according to the system of the city as a whole, though they will all be spent in Tropico. When the year ends and a new budget is prepared, it will cover the entire city and there will be no separation of treasury funds.

Bond Election

"Our Public Service Department is self supporting," he continued. "That department has been making investigations looking to the taking over of the light and water departments of the Tropico district, and an election for the voting of bonds will be held at the earliest possible date to give the people of the district an opportunity to say whether they want them to be made a part of the municipal lighting and water departments. The matter would be put up directly to the Tropico people. In voting to turn over the water plant of Tropico, they would not be starting out on any new venture. The entire service department of the City of Glendale would be back of it, which is an organized, going concern. The City of Glendale through its service department has made good on every statement it has ever put out in regard to those affairs. Therefore I do not imagine the people of Tropico will hesitate to go into it. No matter what plan for the financing of the proposition is decided upon, it will not involve the payment of one cent out of taxes.

"This election would probably include a vote on the purchase of the electric light distributing system and would call for bonds in the amount of about $110,000. We have practically the lowest rates for electric light and power in California. No other place has anything like ours except possibly the little town of Lodi. We make, as you know, a 50 cent service charge, then a rate of two cents per kilowatt up to 100 hours and then a rate of one cent per kilowatt hour. The average consumption brings the cost down to about five cents per kilowatt.

Fire Engine

"The fire engine will stay where it is and two men will be detailed to look after it. The police department will be completely merged with that of Glendale and operated from one department.

Library

"The library will be maintained as a branch of the Glendale library and a librarian will be employed there. As soon as consolidation is effected, the Board of Trustees intends to appoint a Tropico representative to serve upon the library board.

City Hall

"An office will be maintained during office hours in the present City Hall, where water and light bills can be paid, and where information can be furnished to all inquirers."

A PLEASANT OCCASION

Grace F. Tower was visited by a number of her young friends Saturday evening at her home, 118 South Maryland avenue. Music and games and refreshments contributed to a good time. Those present were Dorothy Tuft, Lois Painter, Doris Reaser, Elizabeth Koch, Gertrude Van Ben- thusen, Marjorie Kimlin, Helen Rand, Verna Smith, Ruth Rambaugh, Elizabeth Ball, Fritz Bowman, Alfred Bowman, Orville Painter, Hobart Cummings, Raymond Mondon, Grace Tower, Beatrice Tower, all of Glendale; Ethel Dummer, Velda Adams, Lawrence Ackerson, of Edendale; Howard Curran and Henry Mathis, of Los Angeles.

R. V. ABARTA WRITES

TELLS OF LIFE AT CAMP LEWIS IN LETTER WRITTEN TO W. B. KIRK

The friends of Robert Abarta, who is at Camp Lewis, will be glad to read the following extracts from a letter written to Mr. Kirk. He says:

"A great many things have happened since I received your letter. I have been transferred to the 364th Infantry. I like the infantry much better than the Depot Brigade. The regiment I am in is made up of all California boys, which makes it nice. Well the company I am in has been quarantined for spinal meningitis for over two weeks, and I ran out of paper just as we were quarantined so I couldn't write to any one. There was a case in the barracks that about 50 of our company slept in, and those fellows ate their meals with us. So they quarantined us all and very glad to say it was lifted Thursday. Well how is the life insurance business? I took out a $10,000 policy with the U. S. Government. I believe there is a policy that can't be beat. I suppose you know all about their insurance business. It cost me $77.50 a year. One good thing the insurance will do away with the pensions. And that was a real graft.

"If you like to walk a great deal you want to join the army. We drill for eight hours every day except Wednesday afternoon, Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

"We are getting all kinds of drills with bayonets and rifles and also some trench digging. We expect to go on the range to get a little target practice. We have also been drilled on the use of the gas mask. Well there is no place on earth like California. If you want to catch a bad cold and feel bad on account of climatic conditions, just come up to Washington. We get very little sunshine and the nights are very foggy. I was on quarantine guard Wednesday for 24 hours which ended at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. When we were in quarantine we had a fence around our barracks and we had to have guards. My job was to see that no one got out and no one got in or within ten feet of the fence. My hardest job was to keep the men's mothers, wives and sweethearts and also friends ten feet from the fence.

"I just heard that the fellow who had the spinal meningitis died this morning. That was the only case in the barracks with our men. There were also five other companies quarantined. Then the German measles broke out. There were four cases in our company. In one of the other companies they took out 17 cases.

"Thanks for your letter and don't forget to write every chance you get. I am faithfully yours,

"R. V. ABARTA.

364th Infantry, Camp Lewis, Wn. B. Company.

"We can't go to Seattle any more on account of the vice conditions. I have never been there and I guess I never will get there."

IMPORTANT MASS MEETING TO- NIGHT

The War Council of the Y. M. C. A. of Los Angeles, extends through Mrs. Wm. W. Ramsay, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, an invitation to all club women of Glendale to attend a mass meeting at the First M. E. Church, 6th and Hill streets, Los Angeles, at 8 o'clock tonight. Chaplain Monod, representative of the protestant churches of France, is to be the speaker. The distinguished lecturer comes straight from the trenches and brings a message of vital import to the women of America.

MR. FRANK NELL

Friends of Mr. Frank Nell, of East Third street, who was taken to the Methodist Hospital in Los Angeles for an operation a short time ago, report that he has shown marked improvement since he learned of the good work done by the Elks in building a dwelling for him and Mrs. Nell. The good news had a decidedly stimulating effect. He is still very weak, however, and the operation has not yet been performed.

HOME FOR THANKSGIVING

Miss Louisiana Spaulding, who came home to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Spaulding, of Park avenue, has returned to Tulare, where she is supervisor of music in the public schools. She is working hard to train her pupils for an opera which is to be produced at Christmas time. Last week she gave a very successful entertainment for the benefit of the Tulare Red Cross organization. She likes Tulare and seems to thrive, as she has gained 15 pounds since she went there, in spite of her strenuous labors.

WILSON URGES WAR WITH AUSTRIA

PRESIDENT CALLS UPON CONGRESS TO FORMALLY LIST GERMANY'S ALLIES AMONG ENEMIES OF U. S.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, December 4.—President Wilson today called upon Congress to declare a state of war between the United States and Austria-Hungary, pledging America to victory and declaring that nothing shall turn us aside. He asked that Austria-Hungary be formally listed among America's enemies to remove "this embarrassing obstacle which stands in our way."

"Any peace which America makes," he said, "must include the delivery of Austria-Hungary, Turkey and the Balkan peoples as well as Northern France and Belgium from Prussian domination. Nothing shall turn us aside until this is accomplished. Those who desire peace before that purpose is achieved, I council to carry their advice elsewhere."

The president suggested remedial legislation to meet the railroad and food price situation. "The latter," he said, "is based on 'selfishness' rather than on the law of supply and demand."

He urged legislation to insure the full use of our national resources, especially the water power of the country.

He asked for more drastic laws for the punishment of alien enemies and an amendment including women as well as men under all alien enemy acts. Instead of confining alien enemies in comfortable internment camps he suggested that they be confined in penitentiaries where they may be made to work "as other criminals do."

The president scored Germany in lashing terms. He said, "Autocracy must be shown the utter futility of its claims to power. It is impossible to apply any standard of justice so long as such forces go unchecked and undefeated as the present masters of Germany command."

"America's attitude toward Germany herself is the same as toward Belgium, the Balkan states and Austria-Hungary," he said. "We intend no wrong toward the German empire and no interference with her internal affairs." He called false the "German masters'" statement that Germany is fighting for the very empire itself.

With reference to urging war with Austria he said, "Austria-Hungary is simply a vassal of the German government. We must meet its force with our force and regard the central powers as but one. The war can not be a success if it is conducted in any other way."

"The same logic," he declared, "will lead us to declare war on Turkey and Bulgaria. They are tools of Germany and mere tools but they do not yet stand in our direct path."

"If I have overlooked anything your counsel will supply the omission," he said in speaking to Congress. "What I am perfectly clear about is that the present session of Congress should be concentrated upon a vigorous, rapid and successful prosecution of the great task of winning the war. We can do this with all the greater zeal and enthusiasm because we know that for us this is a war of high principle."

SESSION OF CONGRESS MAY BE LONG

MANY MEMBERS OF BOTH HOUSES ADVOCATE "UNTIL THE END OF THE WAR" SESSION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, December 4.—Many members of both houses of Congress favor keeping the present session until the end of the war or the constitutional life of the body ceases. The fact that all members must seek re-election next fall and wish to be in their districts acts as a brake on this movement.

The Senate has a problem all its own—LaFollette. When the last session ended there seemed to be a general agreement to censure and not to expel him. The Wisconsin pacifist, however, has given every indication of pushing the fight to a decision himself—the two alternates being that he is an expelled martyr or a vindicated victor. He confidently expects the latter result.

Three most powerful forces in the house, Representatives Kitchin, Fitzgerald and Speaker Clark, are committed to levies of 80 per cent war profits. Sentiment is general that not only must levies be increased but that new ways of raising money must be invented. High cost of food is working against proposed consumption taxes.

Leaders generally expect the "dry" amendment to be successful and the suffrage amendment to be beaten. The carrying of New York has had two effects—it has shown the women's strength, but also has given ammunition to those who argue that the cause can succeed in a state by state fight.

The "dry" amendment needs only to pass the House, the Senate having approved it in the extra session. If it is successful, three-fourths of the states must approve it within six years. Many "wets" will vote for it thinking this is impossible, and figuring all other "dry" proposals will be quiescent until a decision on this one is reached.

Democrats are in safe control, having picked up one additional member in the November election.

STREET NUMBERING

C. W. KINNAN ADVOCATES RE- NAMING AND RENUMBERING OF STREETS

Mr. Editor:—

Now that Tropico is about to be "given the hand of fellowship and received into full communion" with Glendale, the matter of re-naming part of our streets and re-numbering all of them, bobs up in a way that will not down, for re-numbering will be a matter of absolute necessity, because the system of numbering in Tropico absolutely conflicts with the system in Glendale, in both directions. It must be attended to now. When this is done, the folks in Casa Verdugo will have to follow suit as a mere matter of self protection; thus we will have a continuous system from the foot of the mountain to the S. P. track, and a permanent one, provided it is done right.

An examination of the map shows that the corner of Brand and Broadway is at almost the exact geographical center of the new city, both east and west and north and south, and we will know that it is and always will be, the business center. It is therefore, the only logical point to start the numbering from, in all directions.

But to do this, it will mean "confusion worse confounded," unless at the same time First, Second, Third, Fifth, Seventh and Ninth streets are renamed. They should be given names of local or general historical significance, in my humble opinion, and in these war times such names as Fremont, Sherman, Sheridan, etc., I believe would be most appropriate. However, that is only a suggestion, the main thing is to do away with the numbered streets in toto, as they have been done away with in part, already. Let's finish the job, and finish it now.

The only real argument used against the proposition when it was up over a year ago, was that it would interfere with and sadly confuse voting registrations, if done at that time; there was then some force in that argument. But right now there is no force to it, because all voting registrations expire December 31st, and on January 1st the next registration begins and we will all have to re-register. Therefore, if the Board of Trustees gets busy immediately, they can have the re-naming and re-numbering all done before the time for beginning the new registration, and so avoid all confusion in the new registration.

There is nothing sacred in these old numbered street names, else why have the people already gone so far as to change Fourth to Broadway and Sixth to Colorado?

While I have the floor, I wish to make another suggestion, which may possibly cause a slight temporary shock to some. The matter has already been discussed in the Los Angeles papers, in connection with the new Ivanhoe bridge, which will be built in the next few months. I refer to the matter of naming the new improved boulevard that will be built out to this bridge from the central part of the city somewhere. This new boulevard will probably start from the west portal of the new Second street tunnel, about to be driven through Bunker Hill, in Los Angeles, following thence Second street to First street, Lake Shore avenue to Sunset boulevard, Glendale avenue (in Los Angeles, not here in Glendale) to Berkeley street, Alessandro street, to Ivanhoe avenue, thence following Ivanhoe avenue to its end, and then one or two other streets through the valley back of Ivanhoe station, coming out at the station on Rowena avenue. This fine new boulevard, which will carry all the traffic from the city to Glendale and most of the San Fernando Valley, will there connect with our Brand boulevard, which will be extended to the new bridge.

Now I make this suggestion: Why not have our Board of Trustees confer with the City Council of Los Angeles and agree upon some good and appropriate name of significance, for the entire line of this fine boulevard from the west portal of the Second street tunnel to the foot of the mountain at North Glendale? The boulevard will be a highway to be mighty proud of; so let's give it one name instead of the eight different names now applied to as many different sections of the same highway.

I do not know if there is anything particularly sacred in the name of "Brand" boulevard. I do not know the circumstances which caused the name of Mr. Brand to be given to this particular part of the street system of Glendale and Tropico. If there is anything about it which would seem to indicate that the city owes it to Mr. Brand to continue his name to the street, I have never heard of it. I know of no reason why the name it now bears is any more sacred than

INJURED MEN IMPROVE

VICTIMS OF SATURDAY'S COLLIS- SION RECOVERING—ONE RE- TURNS HOME

At the Glendale Sanitarium the two patients who are suffering from injuries inflicted on Saturday morning when two cars on the Glendale Montrose line collided, are doing as well as can be expected. Ex-mayor Dunlop, of Hollywood, who was painfully cut with flying glass, was able to leave for his home on Monday. Mr. Charles Lechner, of La Crescenta, who was badly bruised and cut in a number of places will probably be obliged to remain in the hospital for about four weeks because of severe injuries to both legs, one of which was fractured, while ligaments were torn from the ankle on the other. The wreck occurred about 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the junction of Verdugo road and Glendale avenue, between a car returning with passengers from La Crescenta and a car carrying freight. This second car is accustomed to make a spur at Verdugo Park before the passenger car reaches that point. The motorman of the freight was Mr. J. M. Patterson and Mr. William Deerr was driving the passenger. It has not yet been ascertained why both cars were on the single track at the same time. The placing of blame seems to depend on the finding of the exact time at which the collision occurred as one car was either earlier or the other later than it should have been. The damages to cars and equipment are estimated at the offices of the Glendale Montrose line as about $4000. An investigation is being made into the matter from headquarters.

A MINING VENTURE

Several of our Glendale citizens have gone into the mining business and have purchased seven full lobe claims situated in one of the promising mineral belts in San Bernardino county, 15 miles from the town of Danby in the range known as "The old woman mountains." They have sunk a shaft and have excavated considerable ore. An expert mining engineer of Los Angeles has been over and made a thorough examination and rendered an encouraging report. The state department, after a most rigid examination, has authorized the sale of stock to the extent of $40,000 to open up and operate the mine. The promoters are very sanguine of good returns. Officers are as follows:

Herman Venske, President.
M. M. Kenske, Secretary and Treasurer.
R. B. Hammond, General Manager,
Albert D. Pearce, Attorney.

RETURNS TO BERKELEY

Wayne Smith, son of D. H. Smith, of Glendale, gladdened the hearts of his parents and friends by making an unexpected visit and sharing Thanksgiving with them. He had an opportunity to come by auto with a crowd of Los Angeles boys from U. S. C., who had been up for the football game. He arrived Wednesday night, Thursday evening Mrs. Smith entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner, the guest list including her two sisters, Miss Rowe and Mrs. Fenton, little Margaret Fenton and Miss Dorothy Hobbs. Wayne returned to Berkeley Sunday.

ENTERTAINS GREAT GRAND- FATHER

Mrs. Eustace B. Moore reports that her neighborhood is very quiet socially now that Thanksgiving festivities are over. On that day the Moore family had the pleasure of entertaining Mr. W. H. Harrison, of Glendale, grandfather of Mrs. Moore, who is a great favorite with his great grandchildren.

were Fourth and Sixth streets. The name of Sixth street was changed not long ago to make one continuous name for this highway from its west end at the San Fernando road, through Glendale, Eagle Rock, Pasadena and Lamanda Park to its extreme east end. The same reason exists for consolidating the eight street names of our new highway into Los Angeles, into one name for all, whatever name might happen to be agreed upon. Besides, there is another "Brand boulevard" in the San Fernando Valley, running through Lankershim, as I recall. Therefore, I believe that the name and fame of Mr. Brand would be amply remembered and passed on down to posterity, if it should happen that the name of one of his namesakes be changed in order to make a name better fitting into our new boulevard into Los Angeles.

I believe my views herein expressed are sound. If they are not, I would be pleased to be advised where-in and why they are not.

Respectfully,

C. W. KINNAN.

WE ARE COMING

By J. C. Pierce

We are coming Brother Frenchmen!
Do you think we could forget
That once there was a Frenchman,
And his name was LaFayette?
We are coming, Brother Frenchmen,
Old Glory is unfurled;
We are going to fight beside you
For the freedom of the world.

Chorus

We are coming! We are coming!
Don't you hear us march along?
We are coming! We are coming!
Ten hundred thousand strong.

We are coming, Men of England!
From the mountains and the plain;
We are leaving home and kindred
We may never see again.
We are coming, Men of England!
Our hearts are beating high;
With our air-planes we are coming
To fight them in the sky.

Chorus

We are coming, brave French Mothers!
Down the sea lanes of the sea,
Transports loaded full of Sammies
Who will fight for you and me.
We are coming, brave French Mothers!
Our ships are all in line;
We will fight the Kaiser's U-boats,
We will sink them in the brine.

Chorus

We are coming, English Mothers;
Forget your troubles and your tears;
When you see our boys in khaki
Give them cheers and cheers.
We are coming, English Mothers;
Let the past forgotten be,
We will fight to save your country
On the land and on the sea.

Chorus

We are coming, blood-stained Europe,
We are landing on your shores,
And we hear your mothers crying
For their boys that are no more.
We are coming, blood-stained Europe,
With the flower of our life,
And when peace comes, you remember,
In the future—no more strife.

Chorus

CURRENT FOOD CONDITIONS

The United States Food Administration, carrying out its purpose of facilitating the movement of foodstuffs in as direct a line as possible from the producer to the consumer, has established machinery for ascertaining accurately how much food is in the United States and in the countries of the world, both friendly and enemy. Germany, at tremendous expense and by the most painstaking efforts, has gathered information concerning the resources of all other nations. Such information has been extremely useful. Without it Germany would be a less formidable foe. Facts are the basis of science and this war is a combination of all sciences, including that of human nutrition.

As a general studies the strength and position of his army and the enemy's, Food Administrator Herbert Hoover has established a statistical division as a source of definite information regarding the amounts and distribution of food. The director of this division is Dr. Raymond Pearl. He has a half hundred assistants and has made an exact study of the food supply of the world. He has in hand for the guidance of Hoover the facts and figures of what America and the rest of the world can do to feed their own and other peoples.

The statistical division has records showing the amount and distribution of canned goods in the country. It knows how much and what kind of food there is in the cold storage warehouses and in the grain elevators. It knows the amount of packing-house products. These figures are constantly gathered and brought up to date. They expose hoarding, speculation and waste, inasmuch as they give a truthful record of what is on hand to feed humanity with and what may be expected in the crops to come.

Facilities for gathering information are of international scope, including the high commissions of allied governments, consular agents and officials in practically every country. But to the American public perhaps the most interesting branch of the work is the system lately developed for gathering retail prices. The division has been receiving, each week, reports on the retail prices of 30 staple food commodities in about 800 cities. These weekly reports are to be extended till they include all cities and towns of 3000 population and over—about 2100 places in all. Those making the reports are carefully selected volunteer workers and the system is organized to insure absolute accuracy. There are enough workers in every town to act as a check on each other.

These price reports will be an important means, by securing information on retail practices, in bringing food in the direct line aimed along from the producer to the consumer, and thus cutting down the high cost of living by cutting out brokers, speculators, and unnecessary dealers.

Through the various reports which every food dealer of any

REAL ESTATE AND MINES

Charles H. Henry, Tropico city trustee and real estate operator, reports a great demand for small houses which will rent for $12 to $15 per month, to people who wish to get out of Los Angeles and who desire cheap rents. Mr. Henry is finding the demand for property on the part of investors considerably better than it was two or three months ago, and says there is a gradual but substantial improvement going on. The outlook he considers quite hopeful for the reason that more eastern people than usual are coming to the Coast for the winter, many of whom will stay and buy property.

Mr. Henry's desk was littered with specimens of mineral which he explained had been brought from the mines in Pacoima Canyon, above San Fernando, from which he had just returned. With Mr. Cushman, he had visited them in the interests of eastern parties who wanted the dictum of an expert. It was a hard trip as they were caught in a storm, but his report would be favorable as they promise good returns in gold, silver and copper.

CHURCH DIVIDES AND PROSPERS

Generally when a church divides it is over some minor question. Sometimes over the choir, often over the pastor. Mountains are made of molehills, discord is in the air. But in the recent division of the Adventist church congregation, it was in a different spirit and for a different purpose. It was a case of outgrowing their present house of worship and the decision that they could exert a greater influence and secure better results by establishing a church in Tropico, than by enlarging the Glendale church. About the first of November, arrangements were made and services commenced in the Presbyterian church of Tropico. Fair-sized congregations have been present at each service and interest is increasing. Elder Starr, of Los Angeles, brought them a stirring message on Saturday on the live topics of "The Signs of the Times" and "Christ's Speedy Return."

FOR ELIZABETH SANFORD

Girls of the Philathea Class of the Presbyterian Church of Tropico, were entertained Saturday night at the home of Mrs. William R. Alexander, on Blanche avenue, in honor of Miss Elizabeth Sanford, niece of Mr. Alexander. Miss Sanford is one of the Philathea girls, as she has made her home with her uncle and has many friends in Tropico. She came down to spend Thanksgiving with the Alexanders, returning to Sparta the first of the week.

SUPPER AND SALE

The utility sale and chicken pie supper which members of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid are giving December 7, at the Presbyterian Church in Tropico, is to be quite a social affair, as well as a money-making enterprise. The sale is to begin at 3 p. m. The supper promises to be the sort of a feast one remembers, a big dinner for the price and for Hooverized war times.

size must make, and statistics gathered at first hand by Dr. Pearl's division, the United States Food Administrator will know the price of every important product to the retailer. Hoover says there has been earnest effort by business men of good standing to assist him in eliminating abuses from the food-handling industries. The trade understands that in these times of high prices its best interests, in the long run, will be subserved by putting itself under government supervision.

The administration realizes that the desired large production of farm staples can be secured only when the farmer is reasonably sure of a fair return on his investment and labor. And yet to protect the consumer there must be no large profits in the line of distribution.

The price gathering organization of which Dr. Pearl has general charge concerns itself with getting all this information to be made public at the proper time through suitable publicity channels. And in possession of the facts, which is merely another name for the truth, the administration can resist the rapacity of selfish interests and take definite forward steps for the good of all the people.

GRAZING ON THE NATIONAL FORESTS

More stock were grazed on the National Forests of California during the past season than ever before, according to a statement given out by the Acting District Forester today. Cattle and horses to the number of 204,935, belonging to 2,913 cattlemen, and 465,752 head of sheep and goats, owned by 378 sheepmen, were provided with forage during much of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917. This is an increase of 148 cattlemen running stock on the National Forests, and an increase of 11,267 head of cattle and horses over last year; also an increase of 52 sheepmen using National Forest range, with an increase of 48,520 head of sheep and goats. This increase is due largely to war demands for wool, leather and meat, and was made possible by improved measures for handling stock upon the range.

In addition to the above, owners of 4,196 head of cattle and horses, and owners of 271,833 head of sheep and goats were permitted to graze their stock while it was being driven in transit across the Forests. Free grazing permits were also issued to owners of patented lands within the Forests for 43,035 head of cattle and horses, and 160,207 head of sheep and goats.

In many cases throughout the country automobile owners have learned to drive their own cars or have given them up entirely that their chauffeurs might be released to give their valuable specialized service to the Army.

A force of 52 persons has been sent to France by the Treasury Department to audit the accounts of the Army there.

The native was pointing out some of the local celebrities.

"Yonder," he said impressively,

"is the Hon. James Copmaster."

"You said something. He's been conspicuous in some of the biggest hauls the legislature ever made, I guess!"

Bocker—Surely. He bought his liberty bond from a fat, bold, bow-legged gent with whiskers when he

PREACHING AND PRACTICE
Friday, December 7, at 1:00 p. m., Miss Ella Stevers, the gymnasium instructor of the Y. W. C. A., of Los Angeles, will demonstrate play, with the children on the grounds of the Cerritos avenue school on Brand boulevard, as she has been doing for the city schools.

While everyone admits that the school is the logical center for the social and play life of the children,
the movement seems to be as yet little organized on school grounds, so as to make the play time profitable.

At 2:30 the helpful lesson in parliamentary usage will be given under direction of Mrs. Opal Greenwalt.

At 3:15 the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher association will be open. There will be a vocal solo by Miss Geraldine Meagher, accompanied by Miss Ruth Morgan. A reading will be given by Miss Velma Gilmore,
and Miss Helen White, the agriculture teacher of Glendale, will speak on "Home Gardens." Miss White's pupils produce vegetables with profit from following her instructions. Mr.
Maurice Hartmann, chairman of Home Gardens, will also assist. Mrs.
Ed. Strong, the membership chairman, will try to meet everyone during the afternoon. All are welcome.

CHRISTMAS PARTY
The Lucky Thirteen, made up of alumni girls of Union High, will not meet again until the club has its annual Christmas party, which this year will be given at the home of Mrs. Noble Ripley in La Bree Court.

Cypress, has returned from Alhambra, where she spent Thanksgiving

Exeter on a business trip, which will probably occupy the best part of the week, as Mrs. Coole does not look for his return until Friday or Satur-

Big preparations are being made for a Christmas dance to be given by Twin City Lodge, Knights of Pythias,
at their hall on Brand boulevard, December 12. Full details will be given out later.

since Thanksgiving. They have been enjoying numerous motor trips to the beaches, the mountains and the theatres and are delighted with Glendale and the surrounding country.

Mrs. H. M. Merrill, of 403 1/2
Brand boulevard, spent the day on Thanksgiving in Huntington Park
with Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Warman.
The many friends Mr. and Mrs. War-man have in Glendale will be glad to know that their little son, who has been seriously ill with a threatened attack of pneumonia, is recovering
very nicely.

Mr. Herman Venske, of 117 South
Louise street, is the owner of a new Grant 6. To test it out on a long run, also to see his son Harold, who is a Freshman at Stanford University, Mr. Venske, with Mrs. Venske and their little daughter, Myrtle, left on Tuesday afternoon for the round trip from Glendale to Palo Alto, returning Saturday afternoon. He reported a fine time, found Harold well and making good progress in his studies.
The Grant 6 performed like an Elgin
watch.

Mrs. Cora M. Nichols, of 223 South
Adams street, Miss Elizabeth Lorbeer, physical director of the girls at the G. U. H. S., and Miss Norma Lorbeer, who is a senior at the High School, attended the Lober family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
M. Curtis, at San Dimas, where about 80 of the "clan" were served with a large and festive and particularly appetizing Thanksgiving dinner. Mr.
Curtis is a brother of Mrs. Nichols, while Mrs. Curtis is a member of the Lorbeer family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Reeves Darling, of 1437 Ivy street, entertained interesting guests for Thanksgiving dinner, among them being Mrs. Darling's grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Gard, of Glendora, who is 94 years old, and Mr. Darling's great aunt, Mrs. Harriet Hagerman, who is 86. There were also present Mrs. Hagerman's sister, Miss Sarah Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, all of Long Beach, and Mrs. Darling's mother, Mrs. H.
M. La Fetra of Glendora. Mr. and Mrs. Darling and children returned with Mrs. La Fetra and Mrs. Gard as week end guests at their home in Glendora.

Among the new families moving to Glendale last month was W. B. Patterson and family of Highland Park,
who are now living at 1520 Oak street. Mr. Patterson is a district manager of the Western Union Telegraph company. Mrs. Patterson has been quite active in the Woman's Club, of Highland Park. Miss Margaret Burton is living with them and attending the High School. Mrs. Patterson's brother, Frank Whitson, has come here from Tucson, Arizona, where he held a responsible position with the Southern Pacific company, and will make his home here in Glendale for the present, awaiting a call to the service of Uncle Sam.

Dr. Ira Brown and family of Los Angeles, were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Brown, of Blanche avenue, Tropic.

Mrs. Sarah Ward, of 469 South Pacific avenue, returned on Saturday evening after a week spent with her daughter, Mrs. John Works, of El Segundo.

Mrs. T. W. Andrews, of 216 Orange street, is entertaining as house and her daughter, Mrs. H. Rinehart, both of Long Beach, who arrived on Monday to spend several days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Windheim, of Chicago, have rented the house at 315 South Orange street furnished for the winter. Mrs. Windheim's mother, Mrs. Anna Schubert, will make her home with them also.

salesman is absent this week in San Diego and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Kirri, of 1320
Hawthorne street, entertained on Thanksgiving with a family dinner at which were present, besides the host and hostess, Mrs. G. Mills, Mr.
Mervin Mills, Mr. George Mills and Miss Ivy Mills, and Mr. and Mrs. D.
F. Mills and daughter, June.

Mrs. M. O. Ryan, of 1322 Hawthorne street, who is the principal of the Broadway school, returned on Monday from a trip to Kern county,
where she visited her daughter, Mrs.
Evelyn Wheeler, of Pond, over Thanksgiving and the week end. On the return trip the train was delayed about five hours and a half by two wrecks in the Tehachapi, one a passenger which was derailed near Bakersfield, and the other a freight near the summit.

The Woman's Home Missionary
society of the First Methodist church is planning to entertain the Methodist auxiliaries from Casa Verdugo,
West Glendale, Tropic and Eagle Rock on Thursday afternoon at the church parlors. The meeting will open at 2:30 o'clock and every member is urged to be present to help in welcoming the guests. The auxiliaries will bring views and plans for the coming year and the discussion is certain to be helpful and inspiring.
Light refreshments will be served.

Among the families who have come here recently to make their homes
are Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Formanack, formerly of Dakota, who have bought the house at 216 Cedar street. Their coming to Glendale was seemingly accidental, though they decided it to be in reality providential, as they came out from Los Angeles, where they had been stopping, in order to locate a friend living here and on the third day of their visit concluded to remain permanently. Glendale meets all the requirements for a perfect
home in their estimation.

The Sisterhood class of the First Methodist church held an open meeting at the church on Monday evening, entertaining about 110 guests for dinner, at 6:30. A long table in the shape of a cross and beautifully decorated in pink and white seated 65 and the remainder of the company were placed at small tables. After the very delicious meal, Miss Lillian Wood, who is the class teacher, gave a delightful and instructive talk, reviewing the lessons of the last three months. She illustrated her talk with maps and the black board. Later a pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all.

FINANCIAL AND SOCIAL SUCCESS

The financial results of the dance given on Thanksgiving evening at the Masonic hall as the final event in the big day which the Coast Artillery boys and Glendale gave each other
last Thursday, were most gratifying.
Though the final summing up has not been completed, the amount realized
so far as already known, is greatly in excess of expectations, and demonstrates the success of the undertaking in a lasting and material way
just as the large crowds and the happy gaiety of the scenes on that occasion proved both daytime and evening celebrations to be among the most popular and well attended of any events ever witnessed in Glendale. Drill, football game, numerous dinner parties and dance all displayed
the deep sentiment felt for "our boys," and showed in the response of virtually the whole population of the town how eagerly all wish to contribute with their support toward anything which will be of benefit to our soldiers or show them the appreciation so keenly felt. The net proceeds of the dance, which were to be devoted to paying the expenses of the boys for the day with any excess amount to be put into the company
mess fund, mounted until the expense money, $80, promises to be nearly doubled. The sum of $133.50
net, is already assured and, after the $80 has been subtracted assures a sum of at least $53.50 for the mess fund with the prospects that when all tickets are accounted for the amount will be nearer $70. The boys are certain to remember by this token, as well as through the memories which they have to take with them, that Glendale is with them in spirit and in deed.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Wednesday. Frost in the interior. Northerly winds.

SAGE-KNOCHE
Miss Gertrude Braun, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Braun, of 900
South Glendale avenue, who is visiting at the home of Mrs. Mary Knoche in St. Paul, writes an account of the wedding, on November 28, of Miss Katherine Knoche who was married to Mr. Dick Sage. Miss Knoche has spent several seasons in Glendale and has a large number of friends here.
Miss Braun was the bridesmaid and only attendant of the bride. The wedding was a very beautiful affair and was celebrated at 10 o'clock in the morning at St. Mark's Catholic church. Rev. J. Fosselman, of Dubuque, Iowa, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony. The best man was Lieutenant F. J. Schwertley, of Omaha. The bride wore a gown of white satin with an overdress of white silk tulle, with a court train of satin. The bodice was adorned with seed pearls and oriental lace.
The tulle veil fell to the hem of the train. The bridal bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. Miss Braun wore a gown of gold colored taffeta trimmed with French blue velvet and embroidery and a picture hat of old blue tulle. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.
A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother for relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Sage will be at home in Des Moines, Iowa, after December 15.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL SER-VICE FLAG

On Sunday morning at the Baptist church two beautiful flags were presented to the Sunday School by the girls of the "Sunbeam" and "Jewel" classes. A service flag about three by four feet in dimension had been made by the girls of the Jewel class, taught by Mrs. McCrea, with twelve stars, and was presented by Miss Hazel Walters, a member of the class, who read the names of the boys honored.
A large American flag, eight by ten feet, was given by the Sunbeam class, taught by Mrs. W. F. Wood, and was presented by Miss Nellie Rowe who read an appropriate poem. The special services closed with music and the salute to the flag by the whole Sunday School. To the girls of these two classes is due the credit for the plan and for the work of perfecting it so successfully. The names of the boys honored on the service flag are:

Harold McElroy,
Harold Latter,
Russell Stanton,
Gilbert Wright,
Clyde Downing,
Robert Abarta,
Leslie Tarr,
Hugh Freeman,
Ralph Dodswoeth,
Carleton West,
William Page,
John Sharpe.

CHRISTMAS CHARITY

Girls of the Round Table are to meet December 13 at the home of Gladys Hamilton to plan for Christmas charities. Work of this sort has been done by the members ever since the club was organized, and 1917 is not to be different from other years.

GOVERNOR WILL SPEAK

On Saturday evening at 8 o'clock,
at the Glendale Union High School, Governor Stephens will speak, under the auspices of the Red Cross. His subject will be concerning war conditions and plans and every patriotic citizen of Glendale should hear him talk. He will be introduced by Mr.
John Hyde Braly, head of the local Red Cross. All are welcome and a large attendance is assured.

RED CROSS BAZAAR

Preparations for the bazaar to be held by the Tropic Red Cross Auxiliary December 13, in the City Hall,
are going forward very satisfactorily. Work is being pushed at the Monday afternoon and Thursday night sessions, and Tropic school children have been enlisted and are to prepare articles which will be offered for sale. Mrs. Joseph Griffin reports that 12 iceless cakes have been promised by loyal Hooverites,
who are willing as far as the flesh is concerned, but patriotic enough to resist the embellishment of their handiwork by attractive icings.

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klamm, of Tropic, have a soft place in their hearts for the soldiers and sailors of Uncle Sam. Recently they visited San Pedro and there met some of the boys who have come from "somewhere" in the United States and have no family connections here. They conceived the idea of inviting these lonely ones to their home for a Thanksgiving dinner which was given Sunday instead of Thursday. The guest list also included Mr. and Mrs.
Miller and two daughters, and Mr.
and Mrs. John Klamm of Glendale.
The guests remained for supper and the boys furnished royal entertainment with a program of songs and stories.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES AID MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society of Tropic, will be held Friday afternoon, December 14 at 2 o'clock, instead of Thursday, which is the usual
day. This change is only temporary and is made out of courtesy to the Red Cross Auxiliary, which is holding a fair December 13th.

SPECIAL MUSIC TONIGHT
The long promised quartette from the South Park Church, Los Angeles,
has made definite plans for being present tonight, and also Wednesday and Thursday nights at the Baptist church. In the meantime the effective singing of Mr. Smith has been much appreciated by those privileged to hear him. This was supplemented last night by a sweet solo rendered by Mrs. Sam Neighbors, and several violin accompaniments by Prof.
Lowinsky.

Evangelist Smith gave another
helpful discourse last night on "Jesus as God and Man," showing his right to be received as man's Saviour, because he is "God manifest in the flesh," and his ability to save because he is "The Son of man." There were a number of new faces in the audience, and the efforts this week
promise to prove a great blessing
both to the church and the community. He speaks tonight on "Excuses," which he will treat in an entirely new and interesting way. The singing of the quartette will prove an added attraction which you should not miss.

SUNDAY SCHOOL FESTIVITIES

Christmas festivities of the Tropic Presbyterian Sunday School will begin with a Christmas party at the church Friday evening, December 21.
The regular Christmas entertainment will be held the following Sunday evening in the church auditorium, at 7:30 when an appropriate musical and literary program will be presented by the children.

MRS. REIFENBERG ENTER-TAINS

Hotel Tropic on San Fernando
boulevard was brought to life last week when Mr. Reifenberck entertained with a Thanksgiving feast her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reifenberck of Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Maguire and Fred Maguire, of Los Angeles.

RED CROSS DINNER

Make your reservations now for the chicken dinner to be served at the Red Cross Bazaar. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock in the dining room of the Elk's Club, Friday, Dec.
14. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Whitaker, S. S. chairman of the Bazaar, Miss Tyler, with the Glendale
Electric company; Mrs. John Robert White, Home 1061; and Mrs. R. A.
Blackburn, at the Red Cross headquarters.

ORGANIZED FOR WORK

Work is being organized at the new headquarters of the Board of Exemptions of this, the Seventh County District, which have been transferred from San Fernando to the Chamber of Commerce in Glendale. F. D. Lanterman, member of the board, will have general supervision; Mrs. I. Theo. Jackson, of Los Angeles has been engaged as head

clerk, and the sending out of "Questionnaires" will begin the 15th.

LAST SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Mrs. Charles A. Barker and Mr.
D. G. Hibben, members of the Board of Trustees of the Tropic Grammar School district, met at the Cerritos school house Monday evening for what was probably their last regular public meeting. Mr. Clyde Carmack, president of the board, was not present.

Business transacted was chiefly the auditing of bills. The purchase of the piano which is now being rented for use of the Cerritos school was discussed, but no action was taken.

Mr. Barker, clerk of the board,
stated that expenditures for October
had totaled $1264.80 and for November $1080.82, a total of $2345.12.
The demands upon the treasury the coming month will be somewhat heavier by reason of having to meet the bills for school supplies, and a plumbing bill of generous proportions, nevertheless there should be no shortage of funds, as the board's allotment for the year amounts to $11,897.

It was announced that the school would close for the Christmas vacation December 14th to give teachers an opportunity to attend sessions of the Teachers' Institute to be held from the 17th to the 21st inst., inclusive. They will probably not reopen until the day after New Years, or January 2d.

ADVERTISING CROWDED OUT

It becomes necessary for the management of the Evening News to apologize to his subscribers on account of so much advertising being crowded out in today's issue. So anxious have we been to give space to the many interesting reading notices
that we were forced to embarrass the live merchants of the city by carrying their offerings over to a future issue.

DON'T DO IT

If evil times befall you and misfortune sore forestalls you, and it's hard for you to cipher how or where you're coming out; if you've had such measly pickings, and so many beastly lickings, that you're tempted to let all your faith and hope go up the spout, don't do it! For you've not the slightest notion what a mighty,
boundless ocean of good luck awaits
the man who grits his teeth, and says: "I will!" Keep your grip a little longer, go set your heels a little stronger; doubting Fortune is to wring her—don't do it.—George W.
Hatch.

SENTRY DUTY DRIVES PRIVATE MOGLE TO POETRY

CAMP FUNSTON, Nov. 28.—Sentry duty is not all "it's cracked up to be," according to Private Gale Mogge of Winfield, Kan., who after being released from a stretch as sentry gave vent to his feelings in the following:

By PRIVATE GALE MOGLE
Speaking of rest, in terms of jest—
Mr. Webster, not meaning to scold
you,
You'd never have put that word in your book,
If you'd ever been a soldier.
Already I've told how it was cold,
When I go out on guard,
Of Owls that hoot, and I can't see to shoot,
And my beauty sleep is marred.

The hours are nice, and so are the lice,
That is, if you feel that way.
You're on at five, when you're hardly alive,
And you're off at the same time next
day,
And then you're sore for twenty-four,
A tryin' your best to rest.
But that word sweet, is obsolete,
Up here in our little nest.

It's back and forth and forth an'
back,
And back and forth again,
From post to post, you see every
ghost,
And hear the drop of a pin.
Go on at nine, a feelin' fine,
Then sleep from eleven to three,
You're on for two, a feelin' blue,
Then off for four, you see.

A stick for a gun was a lot of fun,
When you was a little boy,
But to carry one now, after heavin'
a plow,
Don't fill your heart with joy.
Oh it's back and forth an' forth and
back,
You walk and walk and walk,
Your pore ol' leg would surely beg,
For mercy—if it could talk.

THE WAR-TIME COOK

Scrap your old ideas, forget your old habits. Business is not as usual; nothing is as usual. Accustomed routine has yielded to tense, quick action. The very air is vibrant with the will to do and the spirit of courageous adventure. Old grouches have largely been forgotten and old wrongs left to right themselves; everyone is busy and most of us are happy in our work to win the war.

The food adventure is part of the game. So scrap your old kitchen ideas too, and adventure into the realm of food. It will be a voyage of discovery even for good cooks. There are many new things to eat, and many new ways of preparing familiar foods. The American housekeeper must now become an adept in food conservation. Food prejudice should not be allowed to stand in the way. One great source of waste is the influence of custom. People are afraid to try new methods and new dishes.

The main point in planning a war-time cook-book is to arrange the recipes so as to be able to turn at once to the one needed. They may be kept in an indexed scrap-book, or mounted on heavy paper and arranged in a letter file.

The most important group will be "Meat Substitutes." Here will be placed substantial dishes that furnish muscle-building food. These will include combinations of eggs, cheese, beans, nuts and meat with potatoes, rice and hominy. Other headings might be "Sugar Saving Desserts," "War Breads," and "War Cakes."

Order a "stack of corn" or a "stack of kaffir" instead of a "stack of wheat" for your breakfast.

In order to save wheat for our allies the Food Administration is urging restaurant and hotel proprietors to have ready for use, batter for corn cakes and push these instead of wheat cakes. Corn cakes with syrup are appetizing and satisfying.

HIGHER TRAINING FOR NURSES

Nursing as a profession for women is now to be further recognized and dignified by the University of California. The "wise woman" and the amateur nurse with a stock of old wives' notions did well enough in the old days when the physician himself practiced medicine by rule-of-thumb, but modern scientific medicine and surgery demand scientifically trained nurses. For some years the University of California has conducted a training course for nurses at the University Hospital. With the completion of the splendid new 220-bed fireproof hospital just erected in San Francisco for the University of California Medical School through the gift of $655,000 by various friends of the University, the University is now going to offer opportunity for higher professional training for nurses. Candidates for this training will spend two years in the academic departments at Berkeley, winning the Junior Certificate; then a third year at Berkeley in further study of scientific subjects, followed by two additional years of training in nursing in the University of California Hospital in San Francisco. With the completion of this five-year curriculum, the degree of Bachelor of Science will be won. The details of the new course are now being planned by a committee of the Academic Senate including representatives of the Medical School, the Dean of Women, and the Superintendent of Nurses in the University of California Hospital.

There is an increasing demand for nurses of higher professional training, competent to become hospital administrators, superintendents of nurses, visiting nurses in the school departments of cities, of officials in various fields of public health service. Thus this new course will open to women many opportunities above and beyond caring for individual invalids.

Already two of woman's traditional careers had been given opportunity for professional training in the University—cooking, in the Department of Domestic Science, and sewing, in the Department of Domestic Art. Now a similar recognition has come for a third of the most characteristic feminine occupations—nursing, now recognized as a scientific professional career, worthy of the best training the University can give.

SUMMER SESSION IN LOS ANGELES

Next summer will see the novel change that San Francisco and Berkeley people can go to Los Angeles to enroll in the University of California summer session.

While there will be a summer session at Berkeley as usual, the University has announced that in the six-week summer session to be held in Los Angeles, from June 24 to August 3, many courses will be given which will not be obtainable at Berkeley, taught by members of the regular faculty of the University as well as by visitors from various eastern universities.

Among the departments in which instruction will be offered in the summer session in Los Angeles, from June 24 to August 3, in the new buildings of the Los Angeles High School, are botany, chemistry, economics, education, English, French, German, graphic arts, history, household art, household science, journalism, Latin, mathematics, music, philosophy, physical education, public health, physics, and Spanish.

Besides the visiting lecturers brought from various eastern universities for the Los Angeles summer session, a number of members of the permanent faculty of the University will offer courses, including Professors Stuart Daggett of the Department of Economics; Harold L. Bruce, English; Charles A. Noble, Mathematics; Eugen Neuhaus, Graphic Arts; and Charles D. Von Neumayer, Public Speaking.

People of the San Francisco bay region who prefer in their vacation time to seek sunshine will doubtless welcome the opportunity of attending a summer session of the University in Southern California. This Los Angeles summer session is not to be a mere Chautauqua. It is a regular term of the University, counting for credits toward a university degree. The same scholarly standards will be upheld as in the work of the rest of the university year. Undoubtedly a large proportion of the students will be university graduates who seek this opportunity to bring themselves abreast of the latest developments of the day in fields in which they are especially interested. There will be many people who attend the summer session to obtain better training and equipment for the occupations in which they are engaged, many whose primary purpose is intellectual stimulation and inspiration. The opportunity of attendance is open to any person who can meet the requirements for admission to the university, or to any person of the age of 21 or over who in the opinion of the university can profit from the summer session.

NEW THOUGHT CENTER

At Masonic Temple, 532 S. Brand boulevard, last Sunday evening, it was decided to hold the service for the month of December on Sunday mornings at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Pfeiffer has found it impossible to remain with the Glendale Center and keep up with the work he is doing at Long Beach and Santa Ana each Sunday.

Hereafter, Dr. Frank L. Riley, or some other equally interesting speaker, will conduct this service. This morning service will make for a larger growth of the Sunday School, which meets at 10 o'clock. An adult class will be formed to meet this need.

The following was read at this meeting:

"The Statement of Principles of the International New Thought Alliance, (Adopted and made unanimous at the St. Louis Congress, Sept. 18, 1917).

"We affirm the freedom of each soul as to choice and as to belief, and would not, by the adoption of any declaration of principles, limit such freedom. The essence of the New Thought is Truth and each individual must be loyal to the Truth he sees. The windows of his soul must be kept open at each moment for the higher light and his mind must be always hospitable to each new inspiration.

"We affirm the good. This is supreme, universal and everlasting. Man is made in the image of the good, and evil and pain are but the tests and correctives that appear when his thought does not reflect the full glory of this image.

"We affirm health, which is man's divine inheritance. Man's body is his holy temple. Every function of it, every cell of it, is intelligent, and is shaped, ruled, repaired and controlled by mind. He whose body is full of light is full of health. Spiritual healing has existed among all races in all times. It has now become a part of the higher sciences and art of living the life more abundant.

"We affirm the divine supply. He who serves God and man in the full understanding of the law of compensation shall not lack. Within us are unused resources of energy and power. He who lives with his whole being, and thus expresses fullness, shall reap fullness in return. He who gives himself, he who knows, and acts in his highest knowledge, he who trusts in the divine return, has learned the law of success.

"We affirm the teaching of Christ that the Kingdom of Heaven is within us, that we are one with the Father, that we should judge not, that we should love one another, that we should heal the sick, that we should return good for evil, that we should minister to others, and that we should be perfect even as our Father in Heaven is perfect. These are not only ideals, but practical, every day working principles.

"We affirm the new thought of God as Universal Love, Life, Truth and Joy, in whom we live, move and have our being, and by whom we are held together, that His mind is our mind now, that realizing our oneness with Him means love, truth, peace, health, joy and plenty, not only in our own lives but in the giving out of these fruits of the Spirit to others.

"We affirm these things, not as a profession, but practice, not on one day of the week, but in every hour and minute of every day, sleeping and waking, not in the ministry of a few, but in a service that includes the democracy of all, not in words alone, but in the innermost thoughts of the heart expressed in living the life. 'By their fruits ye shall know them.'

"We affirm Heaven here and now, the life everlasting that becomes conscious immortality, the communion of mind with mind throughout the universe of thought, the nothingness of all error and negation, including death, the variety in unity that produces the individual expressions of the One-Life and the quickened realization of the indwelling God in each soul that is making a new heaven and a new earth."

TROPICO LIBRARY NOTES

Wednesday, November 21, Mrs. Peters acted as substitute in the library while the librarian attended a lecture at the Los Angeles Public Library to hear Miss Gueriére, the national representative of library publicity in connection with the food administration. The lecture room was filled to its capacity with librarians, some of whom had come quite a distance.

Miss Gueriére's talk was very interesting, showing how much the food administration had already done along various lines and explaining that the government wished to make use of the library as the best means of reaching and influencing the people. For this purpose "Food news notes for public libraries" is being issued and distributed to all libraries. This keeps the librarian in direct touch with the administration and gives valuable suggestions as to the best methods to be used to help food conservation in the community. One method suggested is to arrange exhibitions illustrating the articles to be saved and those to be more freely used and having samples of the different kinds of patriotic or liberty bread and other things made according to war recipes. Such an exhibition was arranged in connection with Miss Gueriére's lecture and the loaves of bread and muffins looked very appetizing.

Another thing we are asked to do is to start a file of recipes. Since this meeting the Tropico library has commenced to do what its limited space and time will allow. A file of recipes has been started and everyone is urged to help on the work by bringing any facts of interest in the food conservation or any recipes to be added to the file. It is desirable that the recipes should be O. K'd by the person bringing them or by some other reliable person to make sure that nothing is filed which has not proved a success by actual trial.

Patrons will also find in the library on display, lists of valuable magazine articles relating to conservation and a bibliography of books contained in the Los Angeles public library. Some of these books will doubtless be added to our library later.

They have a rubberless tire, likewise punctureless, for automobiles in Australia for use in the cattle-raising country. They couldn't use rubber tires on account of the roughness of the land and the excessive heat. So they made a solid tire of cocoon fiber. It is said to be bullet, glass and nail proof.

NO NEWS FROM THE SOLDIER MEANS THAT HE IS ALL RIGHT

Although the failure to receive letters from men in the service is not pleasant to relatives and friends at home, the adage "no news is good news" never was more true than at present. The report of every casualty at home or abroad is immediately wired or cabled to officials at Washington, being relayed from there without loss of time to the emergency address of the soldier or sailor affected. It is also at once released for publication in the newspapers. No news of casualties has or will be held up.

No man in the service has received orders not to write home; he has been urged, on the contrary, to keep in touch with relatives and friends. The forces in France have at their disposal post cards giving general information in regard to health and the receipt of letters and parcels, which may be dispatched without payment of postage.

Care is also taken to see that mail intended for soldiers and sailors reaches them promptly. Where the regimental and company designation of a soldier is not known it may be secured by application to The Adjutant General's Office, Washington, D. C. In one week 1,674 letters with insufficient addresses were received at this office. On 1,232 the addresses were completed and they were forwarded, 123 were returned to senders, 58 went to the dead-letter office because senders' addresses were not given, and the balance were held with the view that the addresses might be completed later.

Between August 1 and December 1 the railroads transported 1,500,000 men to training camps and embarkation points. To insure the safety of the men in transit the railroads have adopted an average speed of 25 miles an hour except when freight cars needed for the transportation of equipment are included in the trains. The speed is then reduced to 20 miles.

The fuel administration is authority for the statement that, while the annual output of coal has been increased approximately 50,000,000 tons, the increase in consumption caused by the war is 100,000,000 tons. An instance cited is that of the Bethlehem Steel Company, which demands an increased coal supply of approximately 3,000,000 tons a year. The coal demands of public-utility plants, particularly in the industrial sections, have increased a third.

A woman 96 years old has written the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense asking for war work because, she says, "My son is too old to be a soldier." A girl 9 years old wants to go to France as a messenger in the Red Cross service.

Government loans to farmers in October amounted to $7,374,044, practically double the amount paid out during the previous month. Applications for loans in the hands of the 12 Federal land banks total $193,250,945.

According to the Department of Agriculture, rats and mice destroy each year property worth more than $200,000,000, equaling the gross earnings of an army of 200,000 men.

The food administration has seized 16,000 tons of sugar which was held in New York.

A body of 100 surgeons has been organized for service in the hospitals of Roumania.
